What is NAPSA

The National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA) is a national non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization with members in all fifty states. Formed in 1989, the goal of NAPSA is to provide Adult Protective Services (APS) programs a forum for sharing information, solving problems and improving the quality of services for victims of elder and vulnerable adult mistreatment. NAPSA is the voice of APS clients, programs and professionals at the national level. Its over 1,000 members contribute their time and expertise to improving the visibility and professionalism of adult protective services.

What NAPSA Does

- Provides APS systems, agencies, and professionals with current and relevant information and support to enhance the quality, consistency, and effectiveness of APS programs across the country.
- Partners with many diverse organizations to provide a cohesive network of research, practice and policy to meet the complex needs of the ever-changing population of vulnerable adults.
- Actively participates in and promotes research on topics such as APS training activities, services to self-neglecting adults, and national APS data collection and provides regular “research to practice webinars” to apply research findings to practice.
- Hosts the only national annual conference on elder and vulnerable adult abuse and the only national summit on financial exploitation, featuring nationally known and respected professionals who share their expertise on cutting-edge issues applicable to APS practice and other disciplines.
- Works to increase national awareness of elder and vulnerable adult mistreatment through education, congressional testimony and advocacy for program funding essential to the safety and well-being of seniors and adults with disabilities.
