How to Talk About Elder Abuse
Opening Activity

Introductions:
- Julie Schoen, Deputy Director NCEA
- Aly Neumann, Project Assistant

Frameworks
- How would you solve the problem of elder abuse?
Short-term Goal:
1. Understand the public’s current perceptions on elder abuse
2. Devise and disseminate communication strategy that reframes their understanding of elder abuse and its impact

Long-term goal:
To build a society that makes informed choices on policies and practices that address elder abuse based on valid and reliable information
Our Committee

To ensure the nationwide implementation and impact of the new communication strategy on elder abuse, the NCEA facilitates a reframing elder abuse committee.
How do you think the public conceptualizes elder abuse?
How does the public think about elder abuse?

Elder Abuse

Elder + Abuse
- Elder abuse is unacceptable
- Neglect doesn’t qualify
- Sexual abuse doesn’t compute

Deterioration
- Dependency = vulnerability
- Paternalism

Solutions
- Nothing can be done
- Surveillance and prosecution
- Awareness and education
- Support for caregivers

Modern Life Is the Problem
- Caregivers pushed to limit
- Cultural devaluation of older people
- Nursing homes as unfortunate necessity

Spotlight on Individuals
- Greed and laziness
- Moral character
- Sickos
- Payback
- Older people are difficult
- Everyone’s responsible/no one’s responsible
How do we reframe how the public thinks about elder abuse?

Structure of Justice narrative:

“Our society is like a building: It needs strong supports and secure beams to remain strong. We need solid “social” beams in our society so that we can all participate fully in our communities as we age and live free from abuse.”
Narrative Steps

1. Why does it matter?
   • Use value of Justice

2. What this about? How does it work? Why isn’t this working?
   • Metaphors, examples, explanations

3. What can we do?
   • Policy based or collective solutions

Let’s Reframe!

• What communication traps are there?
• How can we reframe this brochure?
What can you do to promote this strategy the public?

- Be mindful of our language and messages
- Cultivate thinking about older people as agents of their own lives, not objects of care
- Connect the role of social structures and systems to the causes and solutions of elder abuse
- Emphasize structural solutions (healthcare, research, awareness, training) and connect that to aging in community and preventing elder abuse.
- Use the Talking Elder Abuse toolkit for reference
- Practice, practice, practice!
- Look out for and share our reframed trainings, materials and campaigns from the NCEA, FrameWorks Institute and the reframing elder abuse committee
How can you utilize this communication strategy in your workplace?
